HEALTH NOTES.

For tired feet put a handful of common salt into four quarts of hot water. Place the feet in the water while it is hot as it can be borne. Then rub the feet dry with a rough towel.

"A half hour's work in the garden before breakfast on a bright, dewy, sunny morning is the best tonic in the world," says a physician who knows just what he is talking about. "It is far better than the nostrums many pale and languid men and women are taking."

Flaxseed lemonade is excellent for a cold. To a pint of water add the juice of two lemons (carefully removing the seeds) and three heaping teaspoonsful of flaxseed. Let the mixture simmer a few minutes, then squeeze it to the taste and let it boil. Remove the strain and set it away to cool. Take a good swallow once or twice an hour. The cold will relax and the throat will feel greatly soothed by the drink.

Hot milk is a safe, nourishing lotion for the skin, to restore its plumpness, laying linen wet in it on the cheeks for a few minutes after massage, not before. Milk whey, sweet or acid, is a famous lotion for giving softness and clearness to the skin, and the belles of Paris dot on their bath of whey for repairing the ravages of dissipation. Saponified creams of the mildest sort are well applied before and after steaming.

QUEEN VIC HAS OUTLIVED.

All members of the privy council who were alive in 1837.

She has outlived every member of the Jockey club and every master of fox hounds that flourished in 1837.

All the peers who held their titles in 1837, except the earl of Darley, who was ten, and Earl Nelson, who was 14 in that year.

She has seen five dukes of Norfolk succeed each other as earls, and has outlived every duke and duchess and every marquis and marchioness who bore that rank in 1837.

She has seen 17 presidents of the United States, ten viceroys of Canada, 15 viceroys of India, and France successively ruled by one king, one emperor and six presidents of a republic.

All the members who sat in the House of commons on her accession to the throne, except Mr. Gladstone, Charles Villiers, the present duke of Northumberland, the earl of Mexborough and the earl of Mansfield and John Temple Leader.

Her majesty has seen 11 lord chancellors, ten prime ministers, six speakers of the house of commons, at least three bishops of every see and five or six of many sees, five archbishops of Canterbury, six archbishops of York and five commanders in chief.

A Cart-Load of Gold

"If you dumped a cart-load of gold at my feet it would not bring such joy and gladness into my life." So writes a prominent man after using the method of self-treatment that has restored so many men who had been wrecked by excesses, over-work or evil habits of youth. A little book that makes it all plain may be had without charge by writing THE EMIE MEDICAL CO., 64 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y. No C. O. D. scheme; no patent medicines—just the book under plain letter seal.

Isn't it a pity that so many women go through life as nervous, fretful invalids, always in a sick-bed or on the verge of it. They are to be sincerely pitied for the great majority have in them the making of healthy, amiable, capable wives and mothers. These cases become sadder still when it is realized that the sufferings they endure are unnecessary. Any woman can be healthy and amiable and helpful if she will take care of the health of those delicate organs that are essentially feminine.

The greatest known medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It allays inflammation; soothes pain, and restores calm and strength to the shattered nerves. It prepares for wifehood and maternity. Over 60,000 women have testified to its virtues. Druggists sell it.

"I commenced using your medicine three days after my child was born," writes Mrs. A. J. Bryant, of Wilbraham, Hampden Co., Mass. (care of Wesleyan Academy). "It was the fourth one, and I never got up so strong and well. I can do all my own work. I have recommended my friends to try the Favorite Prescription."

If somebody was offering to give away gold mines for the asking what a scrambling there would be! When a mine of health is offered there is some lively scrambling too. Over 60,000 people hurried to get Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser at $1.50 per copy. It has 1,008 pages with over 300 illustrations. Something over 90 of these pages relate to diseases peculiar to women. This book may now be had free. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., the cost of mailing only, and get the book in paper covers, or, send 31 cents for cloth binding.

THE UNION PACIFIC STEAL.

In 1862 the Congress of the United States, presumably in the interest of the people, passed an act to encourage the building of a continuous line of railroad from the Missouri river to tide water in California. To aid in the construction of the road the Government granted to the railroad companies alternate sections of the public domain for twenty miles on each side of the road. In addition the Government guaranteed the payment of principal and interest of bonds to the amount of $48,000 per mile in the mountains, $36,000 per mile in the foothills and $16,000 per mile in the valleys. In 1884 the Government relinquished a first mortgage which it held as security for the payment of bonds and interest and took a second mortgage on the roads. The greater part of the bonds are now due and the Government, which paid the interest on the bonds annually, redeems the bonds as they mature. An effort on the part of the companies to get Congress to refund the indebtedness of the companies to the Government has met with determined opposition from the people and the Union Pacific has been making terms with the Government for the purchase of the public lien on the road. The company owes the Government $53,000,000, principal and interest, paid out of the public treasury to the bondholders. In addition to this the company owes about $33,000,000 on first mortgage bonds, making the entire debt about $86,000,000. It proposes to pay the Government $23,000,000 for the $53,000,000 claim and then capitalize the road for $236,000,000 and issue stock for that amount. It is reported at Washington that President McKinley and Attorney General McKenna have consented to accept the offer of $23,000,000 made by the Union Pacific for the $53,000,000 which it owes the Government.

It seems that the time has come when the Government is so completely under the control of corporate power that the Administration does not hesitate to give $25,000,000 of the people's money to a corporation without so much as saying by your leave. The property of the Union Pacific is valued by the Reorganization Committee of the company at $235,000,000, yet it is expected that the Government will dispose of its lien on the property for $25,000,000 less than the actual cash which it paid out for interest on and redemption of bonds for the payment of which the Government was security. To this complexion has it come at last that trusts and syndicates, by electing their nominees to office, control the various departments of the Government and conduct public affairs to suit themselves and for their own profit, wholly ignoring the interests of the people.

WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE COUNTRY?

The McKinley administration has had the management of government affairs for a little over six months and while it is claimed by the Republicans that prosperity is beginning to manifest itself all over this broad land, some things are happening that when the time arrives for the balancing up of accounts, it will look very much as if the much talked of prosperity boom was a false entry on the Republican ledger, crediting that party with a fictitious balance that if called upon to produce, will amount to nothing.

While admitting that a few manufacturing and mills have been opened during the brief period of McKinley's, ruled by Hanna, administration, this pride of the party is fully offset by the closing of the mines and quartz mills in the silver producing States. Other spurts of prosperity that are apparent in the agricultural and live stock centers of the country are offset by the great strike in the coal producing districts of the East and South. It is hardly necessary to mention the shortage of crops in foreign lands as a reason for the temporary wave of prosperity in certain localities. Sufficient causes can be found within our own boundaries and a glance will show that where one locality or class of trade is comparatively easy, another is cramped with little prospect of improvement.

But how can the Republicans reconcile the following with their claims of prosperity? Within six months the Dingley tariff bill, the long promised salvation for the country, was passed. It has been in operation a little over a month and there is a deficit of $25,000,000 or the Government expenditures have exceeded the revenues to that amount after one month's trial of the law. A bond issue will be necessary if this continues for only a few months. And now McKinley has given his consent to a compromise measure, by which the Union Pacific Reorganization Committee will secure control of the Union Pacific Railroad at a low figure and the Government lose another $25,000,000. It is quite probable that a similar settlement will be made with the Central Pacific system and there will be another large loss. At this rate before the McKinley combination will have managed matters for the short period of a year there is a pretty good prospect that the country will be owned, if it is not already, by the bondholders. Can anybody figure out any very great degree of prosperity from this outlook? It is almost too early as yet, but it would not be at all surprising if the gold press of the country in its triple commercial efforts to claim everything that presents itself as an evidence of good times under Republican rule, would get itself tangled up with the yellow fever epidemic prevailing in the South and claim it as a part of the McKinley wave.

An Extensive Business for Sale.

On account of various matters in which he is interested demanding so much of his attention, R. H. Cowles finds that he cannot devote the proper amount of time to his Grocery Business at Wadsworth and hereby announces he will sell the building at Wadsworth in which is located his General Merchandise Store, the lot on which it stands, a large fire-proof cellar, the stock of goods on hand, the good will, etc. The goods are all fresh, nothing shop worn. The business is a prosperous one and the only reason for selling is to enable Mr. Cowles to give all of his time to other industries in which he is engaged. Wadsworth is the best business town in Nevada to-day and this opening offers a splendid opportunity for some good man to locate in Wadsworth. Call on R. H. Cowles at his store. ang26m1

His Gallantry Recognized.

M. Sholl, the engineer who a few weeks ago recognized Mrs. H. Oelrich and Miss Virginia Fair at Promontory and gave them a ride in the cab of his engine to Terrace, has been suspended for forty days for "disobeying orders." Mr. Sholl was well acquainted with the young ladies and with their father, the late Senator James G. Fair, during their residence on the Comstock. On learning of the suspension of Mr. Sholl, Mrs. Oelrich wired him to come immediately to San Francisco, where, it is believed, he will find a more lucrative position than he held with the O. P. Company. Mr. Sholl passed through Wells on No. 2 last Tuesday en route for San Francisco. — Nevada State Herald.

HISTORICAL BRIEVITIES.

Carthage was destroyed 146 B. C. It was 34 miles in circumference, and is said to have been burning 17 days.

Samuel Adams first originated the idea of declaring the American colonies independent of Great Britain.

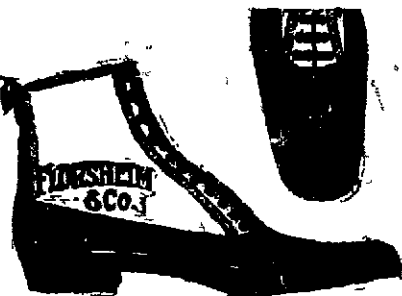

Peacocks have been known for many hundred years. They are mentioned in the Bible. Job mentions them, and they are mentioned too in I. Kings, x. Hundreds of years ago in Rome many thousand peacocks were killed for the great feasts of the emperors made. The brains of the peacock were considered a great treat, and many had to be killed for a single feast.

Louisiana in 1803 included almost the whole region between the Mississippi and the Rocky mountains. It had been ceded by France to Spain in 1762. Spain wished to deny to our people the right to navigate the great river that formed our western boundary, and the people west of the Alleghenies wished our government to seize the whole of Louisiana. In 1800 Louisiana was ceded back to France. In 1803 two commissioners were sent to France by President Jefferson, with instructions to buy for the United States, if possible, a part of Louisiana, including New Orleans and the mouth of the Mississippi. But Napoleon, who then ruled France, fearing that England would seize the territory, took a sudden resolution to sell all of Louisiana to the United States. For this the United States paid $15,000,000.

The latest sleeve is cut in one piece, small giplet shape. Two plaits are added at the elbow on the under side and the seam is arranged well under the arm, while plaits in front at the top throw up a little fullness which forms the puff. HOW THE SKIN TANS.

Explanation of the Effects of Light and Heat.

Produced by the Same Rays That Are Effective in Photography—An Interesting and Instructive Study.

The question of tan and sunburn, which forces itself prominently, and often painfully, upon people's notice every summer, is one in which modern scientific investigations have developed many interesting facts. Contrary to the former popular belief that sunburn was due to the heat of the sun, it has now been shown that it is the sun's light chiefly which affects the skin. That severe sunburn may be produced without heat has been proved by the fact that persons exposed to strong sunlight on the tops of mountains at extremely low temperatures have been burned just as if they had undergone the sun's heat as well. Alpine travelers and those who have taken long journeys over the snow have had the experience of being painfully burned by the reflected light from the white, glittering surface, and sunburn from reflections on the water is equally well known. That heat alone does not produce the effect is clear from many evidences. Persons exposed to the high temperatures which prevail in the fireplaces of ocean steamers, in deep mines and other places, do not become tanned and burned in the same manner as those who work in the sun.

According to the present theory, then, the rays of light, as produced by the sun, which possess the power of coloring the skin, contain a substance upon which they fall. In photography, it is well known that the blue or violet rays of light have far more effect upon the sensitive plate than the red rays, and recent experiments have tended to show that this is also true regarding the human skin. The experiments have been conducted with colored glass screens, placed between the light and the skin. Red glass, according to the principles of physics, allows the red light rays to pass through it freely, while rejecting the complementary blue rays. In the same way, blue glass admits the blue or violet rays and excludes the red. Thus, as the red rays have been shown to have the least chemical power, any red substance which screens the skin, allowing only the comparatively harmless rays of that color to penetrate, would be the most effective protection against sunburn.

A rather amusing but well authenticated instance is a proof of this. A woman who was traveling on foot with a party of tourists wore a waist which had alternate broad stripes of white and red. After long exposure to the sunlight she found that she had been burned under the material of the waist, and to her utter astonishment, that the burn was in well-marked stripes—intense under the white bars of cloth, and scarcely perceptible under the red ones. (White, which allows all rays to pass through it, is practically like no screen at all.) This experience would indicate that red veils, for instance, would be the best to protect the face, and that the old-fashioned blue veils worn a few years ago were of the most undesirable color possible.

That part of the skin which receives the chemical action of the light rays so as to produce sunburn, tan, or freckles is the pigment, or coloring matter. This varies greatly in sensitiveness in different persons, not always being governed by the complexion, although, as a rule, blonds and red-haired persons are more subject to sunburn than others. Just why some people burn red, while others freckle or tan, does not seem to be definitely known. Doctors usually say that the difference is due merely to the varying qualities of skins. Generally, after months of exposure to the sun, any skin becomes hardened to its effects, takes on a permanent brown or bronze color, and is not changed thereafter by any amount of additional exposure. But there are exceptions to this rule. There is an old fisherman down on the Great South bay, who, though he has lived in the open air all his life, is continually being burned afresh by the sun's rays. Year after year his face peels and becomes sore several times in a season. The skin has never been able to accustom itself to the burning sunlight.

"The darkening of the pigment in the skin," said a physician, "is an effort of nature to interpose a defense against the inflaming light rays. The darker the surface upon which they fall the more difficult is it for them to pass through and injure the sensitive parts beneath. Sunburn, however, does not do any real harm to the skin; in fact, the light and air are rather beneficial than otherwise, although the first effect, if there is swelling and extreme heat, is rather painful."

When asked why wind often seemed to produce burn as readily as sunlight, the doctor said:

"The wind, by irritating the skin, produces a certain amount of congestion, and thus predisposes to the effect of the sunlight. When the skin is even slightly congested it will burn quickly, even in a rather weak light. In the same way heat also, by congesting the skin, is a predisposing cause to sunburn, though not the direct cause, which is to be found in the light."

In connection with the subject of the effect of light upon the skin it is interesting to recall the many cases in which the Roentgen rays have caused something almost precisely like sunburn. Persons who have exposed their hands or any part of their bodies for a considerable length of time to the powerful electric rays have observed the sensations and compared them to an acute form of burn from sunlight. It seems to point to a close relationship between the two and to support the modern theory of sunburn here described.—N. Y. Tribune.

LATE NEW INVENTIONS.

With the use of a new wash boiler it is not necessary to scrub the clothes hard, the dirt being easily removed by the action of the water in the boiler, a series of jets extending down through the boiler into the stove to force the water out onto the clothes as it becomes heated.

Clothes are now being manufactured which have the opening to grip the line placed in the side of the pin instead of in the end, so that the pin can be attached to the line by pulling down instead of pushing, the jaw on one side being elongated so as to be grasped by the hand.

Magazine lead pencils are being placed on the market, the lead being divided into short sections, each of which has a point, and as soon as one is worn down it is shipped from the jaw and another drops down into place, the magazine being reloaded through the jaws when it becomes empty.

Medicine which tastes bad can easily be taken by means of a newly devised glass, which has a partition in the center to separate the medicine from the liquid to wash it down, the partition preventing the two from mixing and allowing the wash to flow out by tipping the glass higher up.

Fires can easily be kindled by means of a new invention, which consists of a couple of hollow bricks, which can be attached to each other after being filled with asbestos, when they are placed in a pile containing oil to absorb a sufficient quantity to ignite the fire when a match is applied to the bricks.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

In the number of murders Italy leads Europe. In the number of suicides Russia is ahead.

Over 4,000,000 frozen rabbits are annually exported to the London market from Victoria, Australia.

A folding umbrella, which may be carried in the pocket, has been invented by a man in Salem, Mass.

AT THE RACES.

A Good Day's Sport, But a Light Attendance.

Yesterday being the last day of the State Fair many of the visitors took the early trains so as to reach home before Sunday, consequently the attendance at the track was much smaller than that of the past four days. A blustery afternoon also prevented many of the home people from taking in the races.

An excellent program had been arranged and in point of sport, yesterday was one of the best days of the week. John Sparks brought his drove of Hereford cattle out on the quarter stretch in the morning and they were viewed and favorably commented upon by a number of stock experts.

The first race was the conclusion of the 2:20 trot of the day before between Lottie G. Cameo and Peggy. Lottie G won the race in three straight heats, time 2:22, 2:22½ and 2:23½. Lottie was favorite in the pools at $10 clear through and the field $7.

The next race was running, ¾ mile dash, for non-winners. Racemore, Stormy, Iron Heart and Los Banos Kid came to the scratch. Iron Heart was favorite at $10, field $6. The favorite won the dash in .36½, Kid second and Stormy third.

Race No. 3 was running, ¾ mile, non-winners, between Balerio, Iron Heart, Gold Cloud and Regal. The field was choice at $10, Regal selling at $6. Iron Heart was again winner in 1:03, Balerio second, Gold Cloud third.

Race No. 4 was running, ¾ mile, owners' handicap, three moneys. Fannie E. Nick Nack, Peril, Alliance and Trix were entered. Nick Nack and Peril (Dennison's stable) sold favorite at $10, Fannie $5, field $2. Fannie won in 1:30, beating the track record for ¾ mile, Peril second, Nick Nack third.

A trotting race for 2:35 class was added to the program with Maxwell, Grover O. Princess Wilkes and Belle Madison as starters. Grover took the first heat in 2:35, Maxwell second, Belle third, Wilkes fourth.

The second heat was won by Belle, Wilkes second, Grover O third and Maxwell shut out; time, 2:34. Two more heats were trotted before the race was decided, Belle Madison taking both.

A ¾ mile race for lady riders was a feature with Manzinello mounted by Miss Dyson and Rapido by Miss Allen. Manzinello took the race in 1:18.

THE PAVILION.

The last night at the Pavilion showed no lack of enthusiasm on the part of the young people. The music was excellent and the dancing fully enjoyed.

The principal exhibit is that of the Nevada Experiment Station and it takes an expert farmer to thoroughly comprehend the scope of the exhibit, comprising variety, quantity and what has been produced by abundant irrigation, limited irrigation and no irrigation at all. Prof. McDowell of the station has charge and his knowledge of the products of the State covering cereals, grasses, roots and vegetables would stagger most anyone let alone a plug reporter, so all that will be attempted will be a general mention.

There are fifty varieties of grain, comprising some that are very rare. Fifteen varieties of tomatoes and twenty-four of potatoes. Ten varieties of forage plants, also tobacco, kale, broom corn and other products that many of the oldest Nevadans would hardly believe could be grown in the State. Professor McDowell shows a fine broom made by the foreman of the station from the broom corn grown on the place this year. In quality and workmanship it will compare favorably with any that are sold in the stores and is superior to many. This demonstrates that our farmers could grow the corn and make the brooms, as this one was made entirely by hand even to the stick.

A more extended notice will be given of the Station exhibit next week. Next in point of excellence is the fine show made by the Hospital for Mental Diseases. The variety of roots and vegetables, fruit, etc., is not only large but of superior quality. The exhibit of needle work, lace, drawings, etc., every part of which is the work of the patients, shows the pains and care taken with these poor mortals to interest them in such work as they are disposed to do and by this means divert their minds, and aid in their ultimate recovery, or if all hope has fled, to make their unfortunate condition as cheerful and comfortable as possible.

There are many worthy exhibits and it is not the intention to slight any of the exhibitors by not mentioning them individually, but the two State institutions are especially referred to as all are interested in their management and progress.

Efficient Service.

Ward McNelly, Constable and City Marshal and his force of specials for Fair week are deserving of especial praise for their attentiveness and prompt action in checking any unseemly demonstration. While it may be said that the crowd was not great, yet there were a number of individuals who had dropped into town that needed attention and they discovered immediately upon their arrival that they were objects of especial consideration.

To the credit of the officers be it said that there have been no arrests of an important character as any racket indicated a row was squelched in its incipency. In addition to this, the fair week just closed will go on record as being one of the most peaceable as well as the least expensive of any, as far as the public expense is concerned that ever occurred in Reno.

THE WATER ANALYZED.

Professor Wilson Submits His Report to the City Council.

On Friday Councilman Ryland procured a quantity of water from the spring which has been found at the site, where the Board of City Trustees are at present experimenting with a view of obtaining a sufficient quantity of water for town use, and at Mr. Ryland's request Professor N. E. Wilson, chemist at the University Experiment Station, made an analysis and his report is as follows:

RENO, Nev., Sept. 25, 1897.

Mr. Richard Ryland, Reno, Nevada:—

The sample of "new water works" sent by you has been analyzed and found to contain:

Free ammonia, 0.05 parts per million.

Albuminoid ammonia, 0.03 parts per million.

Chlorine, 0.55 grains per gallon.

Total solid matter, 7.00 grains per gallon.

Of which there are fixed or mineral solids, 4.00 grains per gallon, and volatile or organic solids, 3.00 grains per gallon.

Class, 1.

Very Respectfully,
N. E. WILSON,
Station Chemist.

In the official interpretation of water analyses Class 1 is given as follows:

Waters yielding from 0.00 to 0.05 parts per million of albuminoid ammonia. This class comprises the most carefully prepared distilled waters; i. e., both natural (i. e., deep spring waters) and artificial; i. e., such water as has passed through a good "silicon-carbon" filter in good working order. Such waters cannot be objected to organically.

HEXT CONCERT COMPANY

Through the liberality and patronage of a large number of citizens of Reno this celebrated company has been secured to give a performance at the Opera House Friday evening, October 1st. Of the recent engagement of this company in San Francisco the Call has the following to say:

"A great treat has been given to local lovers of the violin by the recitals of Carl Walther, the Belgian virtuoso, in Golden Gate Hall. Mr. Walther is one of the most accomplished players that has ever been heard in this city, and audiences, largely composed of musicians and dilettanti, have greeted his work with enthusiasm. To remarkable brilliancy and fluency of execution Mr. Walther unites a delicacy and artistic finish such as are rarely met with, and he plays with a knowledge of his instrument that places him in the front rank among the remarkable contemporaneous violinists of the Belgian school, to which belong such men as Ysaye and Caesar Thomson.

"Miss Eme Elaine Hext, reader and elocutionist, who assisted Mr. Walther in giving a very delightful evening's entertainment, is a beautiful and talented young woman, possessed of remarkable elocutionary powers. Her picturesque posings in Greek costume in which she expressed various emotions with great mobility of expression, were received with great applause.

"The playing of Holub was a rare treat."

At the Theatre.

The Elleford's Big Show fully sustained its reputation as a popular combination by the crowded condition of the Opera House last night. The play presented was the "Corner Grocery," and although it is claimed that it is similar to Peck's Bad Boy, there is nothing in the play that would give this idea. A few stage effects and situations would lead a casual observer to think there was a similarity in the two plays, but when the plot and the details are studied the mistake would at once be discovered.

From beginning to end the play is fraught with incidents that exemplify the humorous side of life as well as those that inspire sentiment and sadness and serve to impress one with the more serious affairs that nearly everyone has to contend with. A pleasing feature of the evening was the song by request entitled "The Lass from the County Mayo" by Miss Jessie Norton.

The engagement of the Elleford's ended with last night's performance, but their appearance in Reno will long be cherished as a pleasant remembrance by many who have been able through Mr. Elleford's popular prices to witness the legitimate drama during the past week. Wherever the company goes the best wishes go with them and on their return to Reno they may feel assured of substantial support.

Carson Exchange.

The Ormsby District Fair commences at Carson to-morrow and will be of unusual interest to everybody from all parts of the country. Some of the finest stock and noted racers from the recent State Fairs at Sacramento and Reno will be there. Carson will be crowded the entire week, like it was during the Fitz-Corbett fight and it is well to know that the best and most convenient hotel accommodations can be found at Carson's Carson Exchange across the street from the railroad depot, at the most reasonable rates.

The Carson track being noted as one of the best on the coast, some of the fast racing records may be broken. In fact the program of races, including anything that swings a hoof or rolls a wheel is unequalled. Circo is a true sporting gentleman and will have a horse or two on the track himself, so if you want to be on the winning side get your pointers from Circo, live at the Carson Exchange and be happy.

The Viavi Work.

In no way can we do more good than in restoring the sick to health. This Viavi will do it intelligently used. Have you stomach trouble? Use our Tabloids.

Have you piles? Use our Sano.

Have you catarrh? Use our Catarrh Remedy.

Are you weak and all run down? Use Viavi.

Come and see me and I will fully explain the use of all of our remedies.
